Life is like a box of chocolates :
Conrad Bali Launches Organic Cacao Tours To Connect Guest With Sweet Surprise
Of Revived Balinese Tradition

Conrad Bali is offering guests an insightful journey into the Balinese countryside and into a truly authentic way of life rarely seen by visitors to the island to discover genuine taste of Balinese culture at the island's first organic chocolate making factory, POD Chocolate.

POD Chocolate is a sustainable chocolate maker in the heart of Bali's hills that works closely with local farmers to enable them to successfully grow cacao beans organically which it then processes and develops into chocolate which finds its way, farm to fork, onto the plates of Conrad Bali diners.

The confectionary adventure kicks off with a suitably retro flavour, with the transport option of a renovated iconic VW Safari to POD Chocolate for a tour of the hillside farm, accompanied by a knowledgeable master chocolatier. Guests are then guided through the entire chocolate making journey starting with identifying the tiny and beautiful cacao flower through to the steps of growing the pods, picking, fermenting and drying the beans before returning to the chocolate factory itself to roll up their sleeves and learn how to make the world's most loved product.
